Call for Artists: "Beyond the Brush, Creativity Without Limits"

March–April 2027 | Water's Edge Gallery at the Riverside Hotel

The Water's Edge Gallery invites artists of all mediums to participate in "Beyond the Brush," a juried exhibition celebrating experimentation, imagination, and the beauty of the unexpected.

We are seeking artists willing to step outside their usual creative process and create works using unconventional materials. Consider painting with vegetable or berry juices, incorporating found objects such as stones, sticks, leaves, flowers, fabric, or yarn, or transforming discarded materials into something extraordinary. From natural elements to recycled treasures, we encourage artists to explore materials they would not typically use in their work.

The possibilities are endless, with only a few requirements:

- Artwork must be family-friendly.
- Pieces must be able to hang securely using the gallery's wire-and-hook hanging system.
- Artists may submit up to five pieces.
- All mediums are welcome.
- The exhibition will be judged, with awards announced at the opening reception.

Artists interested in participating should submit the following:

- A brief explanation of why they would like to be part of the exhibition.
- A description of the unconventional materials they plan to use.
- Examples of their current work, if available.

The exhibition will be on display during March and April 2027 at the Water's Edge Gallery in the Riverside Hotel.

We invite you to challenge yourself, embrace curiosity, and discover what happens when art moves beyond the expected.
